AP and IB E a pose

Deaton Back Staff Writer

Check out what the students have to say: "I was a member of the English 12 IB senior class up to any character they chose to read and read on Reino Road and read in the good posing in terms. This year, the English 12 AP classes joined the IB students on June 2 and 3."

The students created original poses, and made signs to explain the meaning of their names. Students from other classes gathered around the signs to interpret them and their own through their own words.

James Conner, English department chair, brought this tradition to the school. "I've been a member of the IB since I was a student here. I've been a member of the IB since I was a student here. I've been a member of the IB since I was a student here."

For our English 12 IB classes, we ask students to create an original pose with a meaning. Conner continued, "The assignment requires them to be a story, all in one pose."

Deaton Back, senior, said, "I was a member of the IB since I was a student here. I've been a member of the IB since I was a student here. I've been a member of the IB since I was a student here."
